Meet The Architect

Design Philosophy

In the last decade, the architecture of residential houses, especially in urban locations, has undergone many shifts. Influenced by the level of density and growing facilities, especially in big cities such as Jakarta and its surroundings.

“With a broad vision on sustainability and eco-design, Atelier Riri committed to develop a prefab building concept for more efficient and practical way of construction. All of those things will be done in a platform of reasonable, execution and construction, reasonable execution and construction.”
