

VASTRA BHUMI

of Soil and Soul

bakti  BCA x warlami
Perkumpulan Warna Alam Indonesia

VASTRA BHUMI

of Soil and Soul

Vastra Bhumi speaks of a heritage that emerges from the earth and returns to it through human hands. Each textile embodies a continuum of land, knowledge, and cultural lineage.

In Vastra Bhumi, heritage is not preserved as a relic of the past. It is cultivated, sustained, and woven into the present, carrying the intelligence of the land into the future.

VASTRA BHUMI

of Soil and Soul

Our textile colors are derived from natural dyes cultivated by the artisans themselves, reflecting generations of ecological understanding and careful stewardship. Leaves, bark, roots, and soil become sources of pigment, transforming nature into woven form. Among these botanical sources, the indigofera plant holds particular importance. Through a meticulous and time-honored process, its leaves yield profound shades of blue, layered and enduring, shaped by patience and mastery. Blue symbolizes nature, depth, and trust, values that resonate with both the living landscape and the spirit of Bakti BCA.

This initiative is a collaboration between Bakti BCA and Warlami in advancing Indonesia's wastra warna alam tradition. By supporting sustainable cultivation, natural dye practices, and artisan empowerment, the program honors ancestral wisdom while fostering long-term cultural resilience.

Warmest regards,

bakti  BCA x warlami
Perkumpulan Warna Alam Indonesia

Nicholas Saputra

Duta Bakti BCA

In Bakti BCA Indigofera Garden, East Sumba

VASTRA
BHUMI

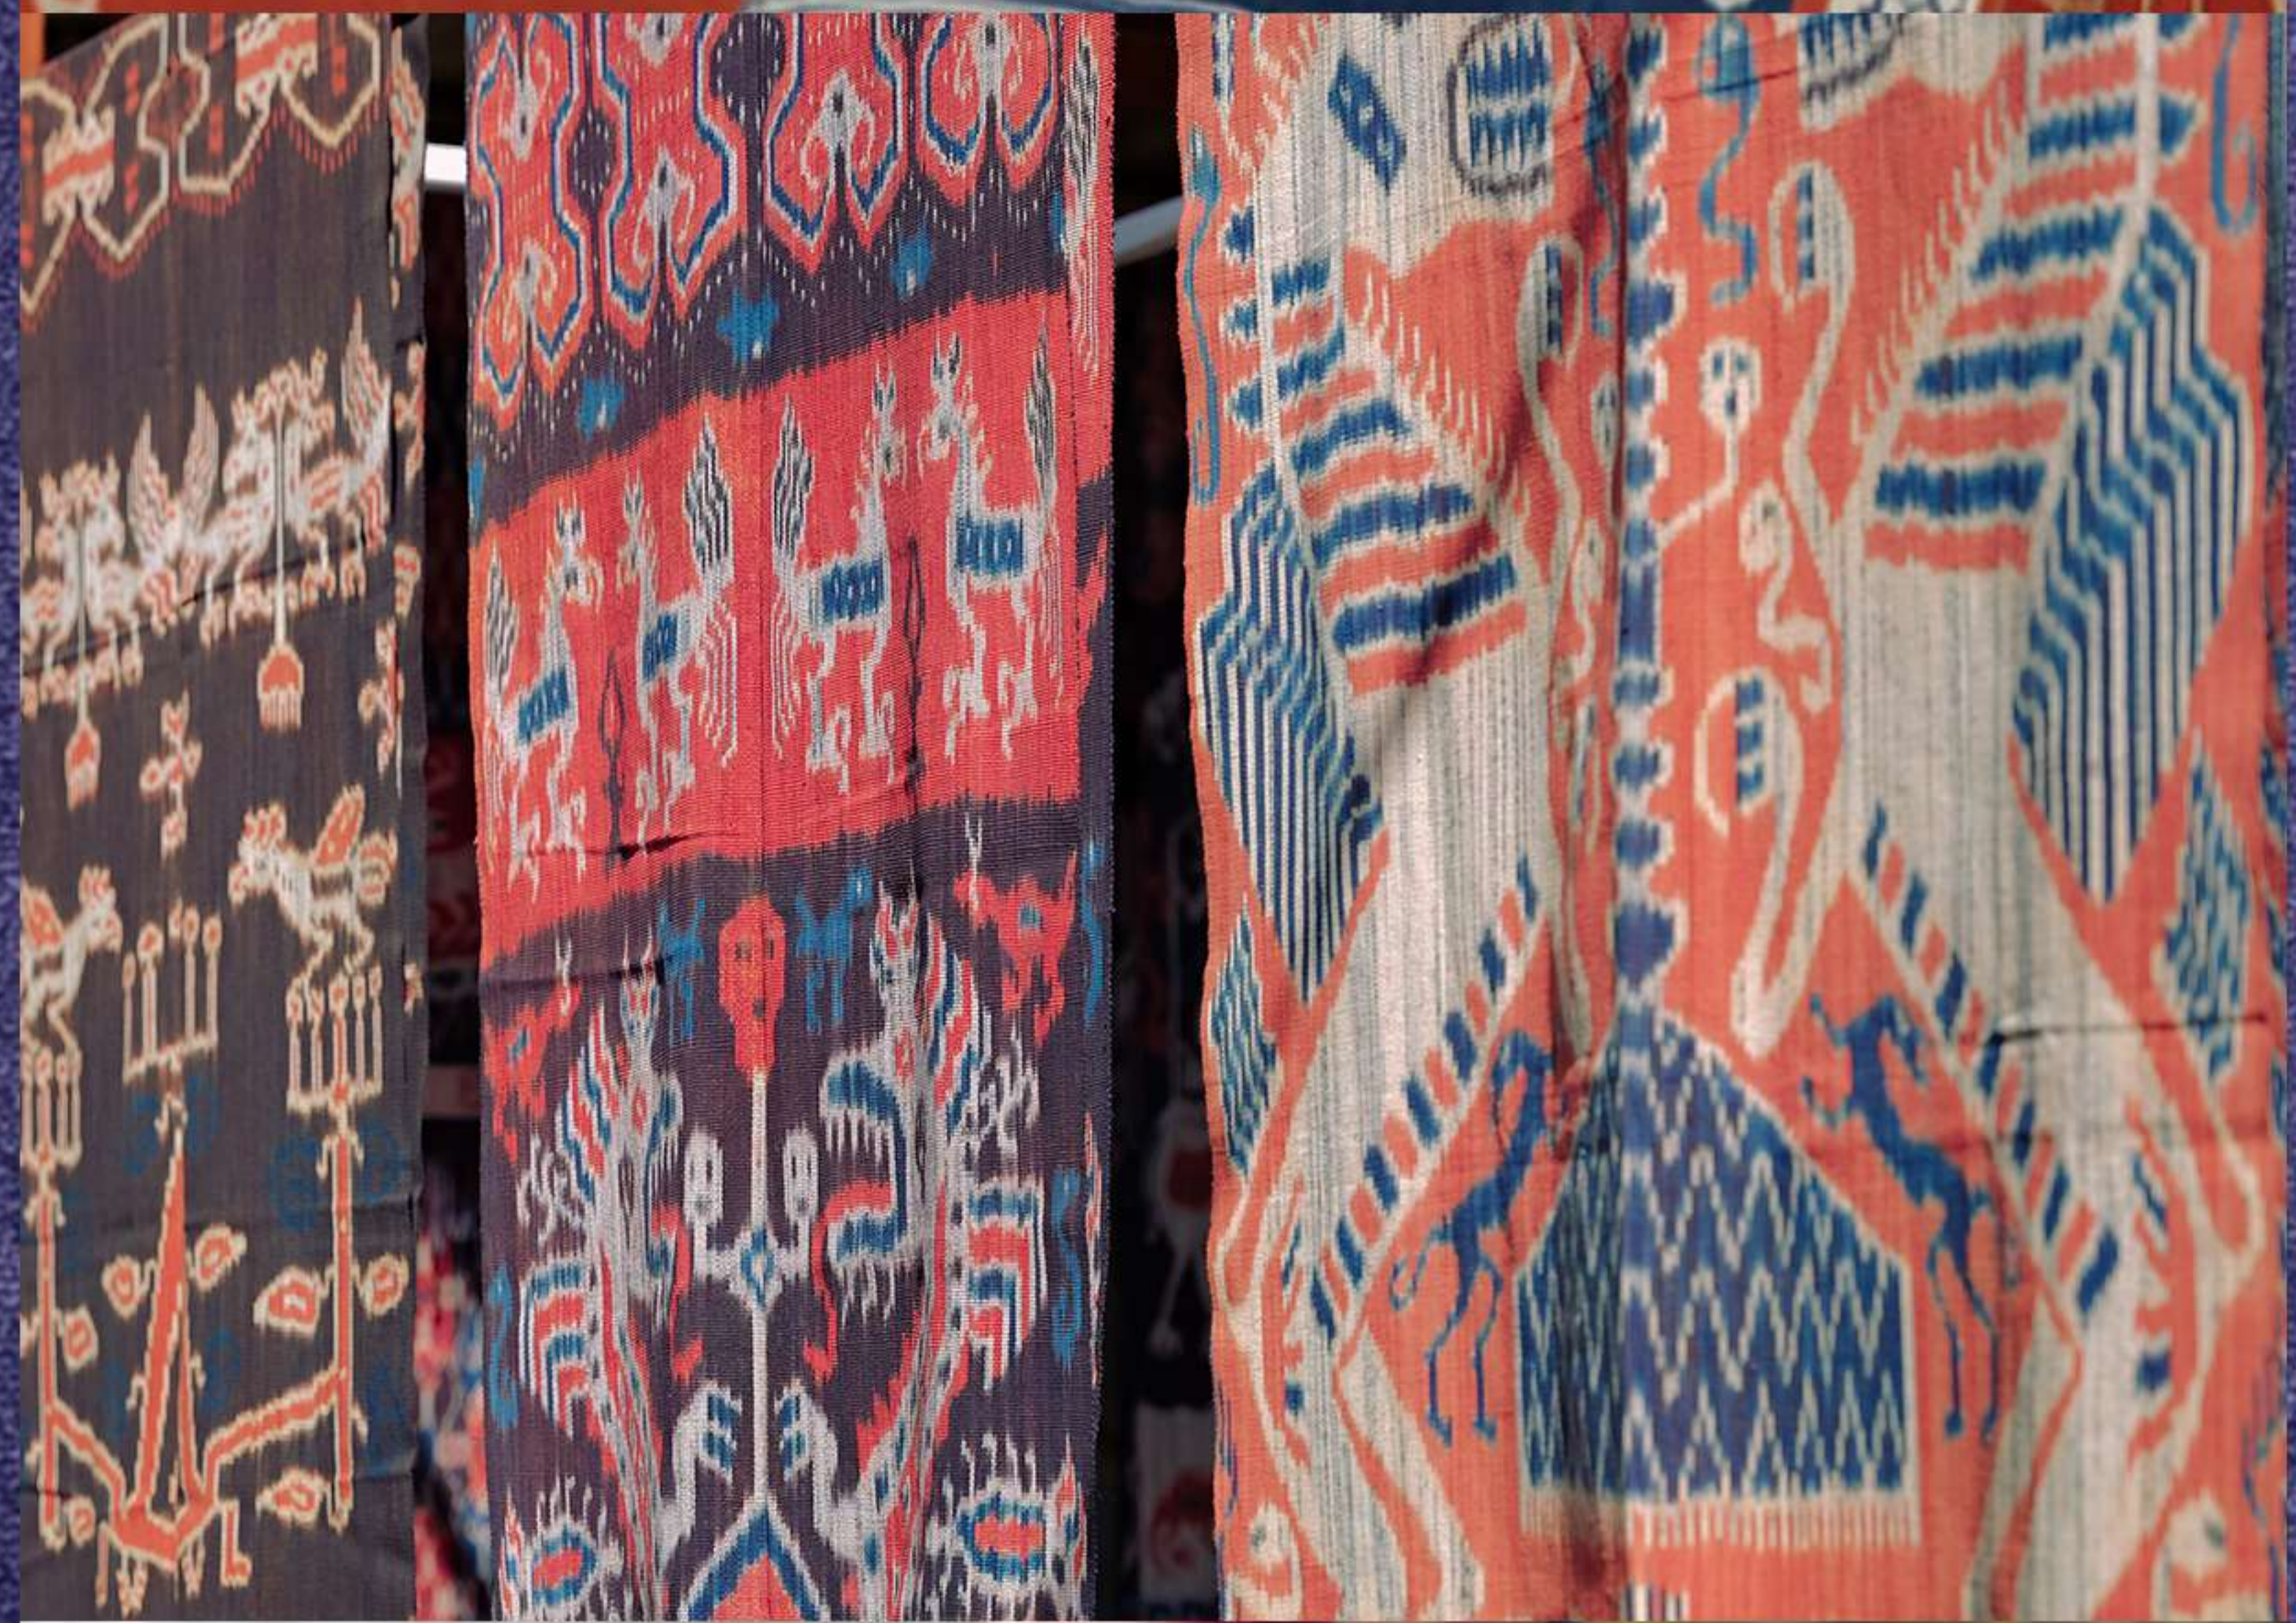

VASTRA BHUMI

Wisdom from Sumba

The Island of Sumba lies to the south of Flores and is renowned for its wrap ikats, which are among the best-known Indonesian textiles and are recognized worldwide. Its finest weaving patterns from East Sumba feature depictions of horses, deer, lions, birds, fish, skull trees, human figures, and more.

Shirt

Textile Fabric

Hand Bag

VASTRA BHUMI

Clothing Set Wastra

Hand Bag

VASTRA BHUMI

Kain Wastra

VASTRA BHUMI

Wisdom from Sumba

Sumba's textiles play a significant role in life cycle rites, as they are exchanged between families and social groups within the community. This ikat is crafted from cotton and dyed with natural materials.

VASTRA
BHUMI

VASTRA
BHUMI

Contact Us for Inquiries

Dian (+62 896-5632-4068)
dian_prawitasari@bca.co.id

Bagus (+62 811-1100-020)
bagus_budiono@bca.co.id

Explore more at bca.id/wastrawarnaalam

